HEADQUARTERS 636TH TANK DESTROYER BATTALION
APO 758 U S Army

4 June 1945

OPERATIONS IN GERMANY
PERIOD 11-31 MAY 1945 INCLUSIVE

During the period May 10 - May 13 the Battalion continued to operate check posts in the vicinity of Kundl, Worgl, and Hopfgarten, Austria, evacuating Prisoners of War and displaced persons. The Battalion was relieved of responsibility May 13 by elements of the 42nd Division. On the 11 May 1945 the Battalion became detached from XXI Corps and attached to VI Corps.

On May 14 due to the fact that tank transporters had not arrived to move the Battalion Company "C" moved eight tanks to the new area at Y 2065. The remainder of the Battalion moved May 15. Considerable track trouble developed along the way and it was necessary to bring in a few of the TD's by tank transporter. Upon closing in the new area Battalion became attached to 142 RCT for support of military government.

During May 16 - May 18 Battalion remained in the Fischbach area manning check posts and guarding supply dumps in support of the Military Government.

On May 19 the Battalion moved to the Kirchheim-Darndorf area where they set up check posts and guards as prescribed by 142 RCT.

All during period May 19 to May 31 the Battalion remained in this area working in support of Military Government.

The Battalion during the month of May sent 52 enlisted men and no officers to the U.S. Battalion received 6 replacements.

S-2 SUMMARY FOR PERIOD 11-31 MAY 1945

The change-over from combat to occupational duty presented many problems. There was no interim - no time for specialized training of any kind. Since the end of the war in Europe we have been assigned many varied missions. We have had to learn lessons and make adjustments as we went along, and I believe that, all in all, we have been moderately successful.

The problem of handling, feeding and generally supervising the allied prisoners of war (and an even greater number of displaced civilian workers) is our greatest problem. This battalion, at the present time, maintains three displaced persons camps. The commander of each is one of our own non-commissioned officers. It is his duty to maintain order and some measure of discipline within the camp; to check the food supplies to be sure that all are receiving the correct daily ration; to pass down all official regulations from higher headquarters which may pertain to the treatment, rights and eventual disposition of displaced persons; and to act as representatives of the military government officer in that officer's absence.

Check posts are maintained along the main roads that enter and cross through our area. An alert twenty-four hour guard stops all persons, mounted or on foot, and examines their credentials. Local inhabitants are permitted to travel no more than six kilometers from their homes without a special pass. Questionable cases - transients without proper identification - are promptly arrested and turned over to the military government for further examination.

We have had some cases of looting but this too has been kept to a minimum by the prompt arrest of all suspects.

Each day two non-commissioned officers of this battalion visit every burgermeister within our area. The military government officer, if conditions permit, does this at least twice a week. If there are any difficulties which require immediate attention they may be taken care of at once (since there is never more than a twenty-four hour gap between visits of a military government representative.

Violators of the daylight-to-dark curfew imposed on all civilians are arrested without question. All restrictions of this kind are enforced in a like manner and, as a result, we have had very few violations.

The German people are charged with the responsibility of feeding the displaced persons. It is our job to see that the food is correctly distributed and properly prepared. The military government has prescribed a minimum daily allowance in staple foods (such as milk, bread, potatoes, meat) and to date we have been able to maintain a steady and ample flow of these items. Substitutions in some cases are accepted when certain foods, such as coffee and sugar, are impossible to obtain. We are fortunate in that nine-tenths of our present area is fertile farm land and therefore rich in the basic food items required.

S-3 Summary

The first 2 weeks of this period were spent mainly on motor maintenance and establishment of motor stables. One company each day was charged with the responsibility of manning check posts and guard posts as well as running road patrols in the battalion area.

The greater part of this period was spent on devising and setting up a suitable training schedule for the entire battalion. Plans had been made to train the entire battalion along the same lines, but, after a visit from the Assistant Division Commander, it was determined to split the schedule between those eligible to return to the States and those who would remain as members of this unit. Two separate training schedules were therefore evolved, one for training those to remain as battalion cadre and the other to keep those with high points in physical condition.

A small arms range was established; an obstacle course was set up; periods were allotted for calisthenics, close order drill, swimming, games. For those training as cadre periods were allotted for firing of individual weapons, classes in their respective subjects as well as the periods listed above.

A great deal of difficulty was encountered in running these two training schedules concurrently, but it is thought that at the end of the period a workable system had been established.
