Hello Mauda & Harold,

How are you? I guess you already know that I'm somewhere in the British Isles. It's a little rougher here than it was in the States, but I don't mind it. How is the weather back home? I know you'll both be glad when it gets warm so you can go up to Sac. Gee, I'll certainly miss being up there with Dewey. I miss her very much. By the way how does Harold like his new job?

There's a lot of things I could already say about conditions here, but you know about censorship. The money system here seemed awfully screwy at first, but I'm fairly well acquainted with it now even though we spend very little of it. Well so long for a while and even though it's a little late Happy Easter to both of you.

Your future brother-in-law.
Ernie
